Heart of the Community

By Tim Cox

With the warmer days of Spring, the thoughts of many young boys and girls here in Randolph County turn to sports. The love of sports has always been a mainstay for people who grew up here in the Ramseur area. Baseball teams from T-ball, Little League and Pony League to High School and Legion Ball teams start their seasons. No one has been a greater promoter and fan of youth sports that Ramseur's own Billy Joe Caviness.

Kenneth Billy Joe "Bill" Caviness was the son of James and Hazel Caviness and grew up in Ramseur. Billy was the second child on a large family. He loved his sisters Chrissmae, Tanya, Bonita, and his brother Ronnie. His father was an umpire for local teams during the early days of his childhood. Billy grew up loving sports and the fellowship that the games provided with other kids his age. At age 11 & 12 he played Little League baseball for the Klopman Mills team with coach Hancock, who bought him his first pair of cleats. At age 13 & 14, Billy played baseball for the Ramseur Pony League team sponsored by Loflin Funeral Home and coached by Harrison Cheek. By the time Billy was in Junior High, he was playing basketball, football and of course baseball for the Ramseur Rams. During this time, his team was un-defeated and won the championship for 3 years. He also played softball for a team sponsored by the John Plant Co.

Billy really loved sports. After joining the Army in 1976 and receiving an honorary discharge, Billy returned to his hometown and started a neighborhood softball team and coached for the Ramseur Interlock

Pictured, Billy Joe Caviness refereeing. team. During this time, he discovered his love for umpiring. He studied the game every chance he got and learned the fundamentals of coaching and refereeing. When it came to baseball, Billy could play any position on the field and never missed a chance to participate in a game. After a call from his friend Larry Goldston, he began umpiring at Leonard Park in Ramseur in 1988. Soon his reputation for fairness as an umpire was in demand all over the county. He was the "official" umpire from Randleman and Level Cross to Asheboro. Several times he had to make calls against his son Christopher when he played in games that Billy was umpiring.

Mother's Day History

Encyclopedia Britannica

Mother's Day is a holiday in honor of mothers that is celebrated in countries throughout the world. In its modern form, the holiday originated in the United States, where it is observed on the second Sunday in May. Many other countries also celebrate the holiday on this date, while some mark the observance at other times of the year.

During the middle-ages, the custom developed of allowing those who had moved away to visit their home parishes and their mothers on Laetare Sunday, the fourth Sunday of Lent. This became Mothering Sunday in Britain, where it continues into modern times, although it has largely been replaced by Mother's Day. Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, whose mother had organized women's groups to promote friendship and health, originated

Mother's Day. On May 12, 1907, she held a memorial service at her late mother's church in Grafton, WV. (336) 824-4188 www.randolphbulletin.com

Within five years virtually every state was observing the day, and in 1914 U.S. Pres. Woodrow Wilson made it a national holiday. Although Jarvis had promoted the wearing of a white carnation as a tribute to one's mother, the custom developed of wearing a red or pink carnation to represent a living mother or a white carnation for a mother who was deceased. Over time the day was expanded to include others, such as grandmothers and aunts, who played mothering roles. What had originally been primarily a day of honor became associated with the sending of cards and the giving of gifts, however, and, in protest against its commercialization, Jarvis spent the last years of her life trying to abolish the holiday she had brought into being.

Ramseur Lake is Fun!

Do you know about our lake? The Kermit G. Pell Water-Based Recreation Facility - often referred to as Ramsey Lake – is the site of a 127-acre lake and a 9-acre park. It is located off NC Hwy 22 between Ramsey and Franklinville. The 392-million-gallon lake serves as the water supply for the town's municipal water system and is home to a variety of fish species. Anglers praise the excellent fishing, and the locals enjoy dropping a line from one of several piers or taking a boat out for a relaxing outing.

The lake offers a boat launch for boats with a maximum of a 10 HP boat motor, or patrons may rent one of the town's boats for a nominal fee, when available. Please contact the Lake Warden to confirm availability. One person from each party must check-in and check-out, in addition to completing the proper forms and documentation, prior to putting boats in the water. The Bait Shop offers a variety of live bait and tackle supplies. There are also snacks and drinks available for purchase.

A valid N.C. Fishing License is required for all persons with the exception of those under sixteen who are exempt from the requirement of a basic fishing license for inland public waters.

Ramsey Lake is a perfect location for family reunions, Sunday school parties, or just a relaxing afternoon. Shelters are often reserved weeks in advance, so be sure to contact the Lake Warden for availability of facilities and the fee schedule.

In August of each year, Ramsey Lake hosts its annual Barry T. Richardson Youth Fishing Tournament. Sponsored by area citizens, the tournament is open to children ages 5 to 15 and offers prizes for winners in two age groups. The combination of free fishing and free food brings out a crowd on a Saturday morning each year.

In addition to fishing, the park also provides paved parking for large groups, four picnic shelters, additional picnic tables with grills, restroom facilities, and a playground for the children.

The Kermit G. Pell Water-Based Recreation Facility is open from March through November. The Lake Warden can be reached by calling 336-824-4646. Hours of Operation are:

Wednesday – Sunday

March: 8am – 6pm

April: 7am – 7pm

May – August: 7am – 8pm

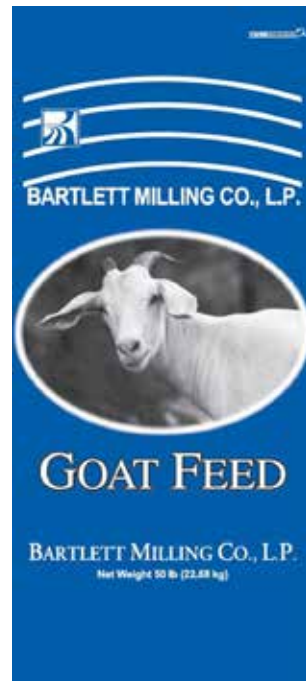

September – November: 7am – 7pm

This made for awkward moments at home, but Billy was determined to be fair in every call he made. Billy Joe was the referee for basketball for both Ramseur and Franklinville Schools. He was always available to do benefits for people in need and treated everyone with respect. Many times, Billy would be the first on one the field or court, making sure things were ready to start play, and he was often the last one to leave after clean up. Billy worked at Ramseur Interlock from the time he got out of the Army until they closed in 2004. He also worked at Eastern Randolph from 2005 until 2017 doing a range of jobs. He was described as a “ray of sunshine” to the people around him. When he “retired” in 2017, the dance team gave him a trophy thanking him for his many years of support to the arts department at Eastern. Billy also worked for Allen Insurance for several years after leaving Eastern and developed a lasting friendship with John Allen.

Billy referred to John as “his brother by another mother”. When you met Billy, if you asked him how he was doing, he often would reply “I’m still above ground, so pretty good”. He loved to make people laugh. As the baseball season gets underway, memories of good times past and laughter come to mind.

Billy Joe was one of the people that have made our section of North Carolina a great place to live and grow up. Billy and Ernestine, his wife of 43 years attended Stout’s Chapel Church. Ernestine commented that “Billy Joe had the love of God in his heart”, and it showed to the people around him. He Loved the Tar Heels.

Billy Joe passed away May 15th, 2021 following an extended illness. He was 65 years young. His saying was “I’m just passing through”... Billy touched a lot of people in his journey. He never saw people as being black or white... just neighbors. His love for sports, young people and his passion for life will be celebrated by his family and friends on May 28th. Everyone is invited to come out as share their memories of Bill Joe at the Lenorad Park in Ramseur, 11:00 AM. Hot Dogs will be served. A plaque will be presented honoring the many years of service by Billy Joe to the Ramseur community. The plaque was purchased with donations from local merchants and friends and will be placed at Leonard Park in memorial to Billy Joe.

A special thank you to Bobby Barnes for heading up the drive for the memorial, and to Ernestine Caviness for the many pictures of Billy Joe.

The Price for Freedom is high.

This Memorial Day, we remember those who have given the ultimate sacrifice so we, as Americans can enjoy that freedom. Today, many aspects of our Freedom are being chipped away every day. Let us never forget the sacrifices of the brave men and women of past wars and conflicts who have given us the rights we enjoy in this country. There is not greater treasure than the lives of our young people. Let's honor their memory and sacrifice with the building of a greater America. One that stands for every person. Our rights are worth fighting for. There are no words to describe the picture below. History should be taught the way it was, without political considerations. Remembering our past is the best way to plan for a future. For this reason, Memorial Day is our most sacred national holiday.

AN AMERICAN CEMETERY IN BELGIUM (one of many scattered over the world). German prisoners of war, assigned to grave digging, trudge through the large American First Army cemetery near Henri Chapelle, Belgium. More than 15,000 Americans had found their last resting place here by March of 1945. By May of '45, American casualties on all fronts were nearing the million mark.

What is Your Perspective?

An Atheist's View on Life

I will live my life according to these beliefs

God does not exist

It is just foolish to think

That there is a God with a cosmic plan

That an all-powerful God brings redemption and healing to the pain and suffering in the world

Is a comforting thought, however

It

Is only wishful thinking

People can do as they please without eternal consequences

The idea that

I am deserving of Hell

Because of sin

Is a lie meant to make me a slave to those in power

“The more you have, the happier you will be”

Our existence has no grand meaning or purpose

In a world with no God

There is freedom to be who I want to be

But with God

Everything is fine

It is ridiculous to think

I am lost and in need of saving

He's Still My Little Boy

Mary looked at her son Jesus – he was all dressed up in his best clothes, his hair brushed and his beard trimmed. He was such a handsome man, she thought, and such a good son. Mary's husband Joseph had died a few years ago and Jesus had taken care of her ever since. He had gone out to work every day – he had been a carpenter, just like Joseph – and he had earned as much as they needed to keep a roof over their heads and food on their plates. But now Jesus had stopped being a carpenter. He said that it was time for him to start doing God's work instead. Mary didn't know what he meant but she trusted Jesus, as she knew that he would never let her down.

Today Jesus was taking his mother to a wedding. The bride was a relative, and Mary wasn't sure that she really felt like going, but it would have been rude to refuse the invitation. So she put on her finest clothes and did her hair. The wedding was in a town called Cana – it was only a few miles from Nazareth, where Mary and Jesus lived, but Mary was too old to walk that far now, so she rode on a donkey and Jesus walked along the dry and dusty road beside her. Mary gazed at Jesus and nodded to herself – she remembered another time when she had ridden on a donkey, years and years ago. They didn't travel alone, Jesus had twelve new friends that he called his disciples and they were all going to the wedding too. They arrived in Cana in plenty of time for the ceremony and Jesus found Mary a comfortable seat from where she could see everything. Mary was glad she had come. After the wedding, all the guests went back to the house for the reception. In those days wedding receptions didn't just last for a few hours, they lasted a few days! Mary knew that these huge parties were very expensive and took a lot of planning, and she hoped that everything would go well. They took their places at the table and the meal began. The food was delicious – tasty meats, roasted vegetables, juicy fruits and fine wine to drink. It was such a good party that everybody forgot about the time and no one was sure how long they had been there.

Mary glanced around the room – everyone was smiling and laughing, all except for the master of ceremonies. He seemed to be worried, very worried indeed! Mary waved at him and he walked around the table to where she was sitting. "Whatever's the matter?" Mary asked him. "It's the wine," he told her, "we've run out! The happy couple will be so embarrassed when they find out – everyone will think they were too cheap to buy enough wine to last. I don't know what I'm going to do!" He hurried away and Mary turned to Jesus. "Can't You do something?" she pleaded. "It's nothing to do with Me, mother" Jesus replied. But Mary gave Him a look, that special look that mothers give to their sons when they really want them to do something. Then she called the waiters and said to them "This is my son, listen to Him and do whatever He tells you."

Jesus peered around the room. There in the corner were six large jugs used to carry water. “Take those jugs,” Jesus instructed the waiters “and fill them to the top with water.” The waiters did as they were told. When the jugs were full they were very heavy and it took two men to carry each one. “Now,” said Jesus, “fill a cup from one of the jugs and take it to the master of ceremonies.” When the master of ceremonies drank from the cup his eyes opened wide with astonishment – he didn’t know what Jesus had done; all he knew was that this was the best wine he had ever tasted. He rushed over to the bridegroom and exclaimed – “Sir! At other weddings the guests are given the best wine first and then when that has run out they are given cheap wine to drink, but this wine is even better than what we have already served, you have saved the best until last! What a generous man you are!”

Over at their table, the disciples stared at each other in wonder. “Did you see that?” whispered Peter. “He turned water into wine!” The others nodded. “You know what this means?” Peter went on, “It’s true what His cousin John told us, He really is the Son of God!” Mary looked at Jesus and smiled and she was still smiling a week later when they got back home to Nazareth. “He might be the Son of God,” she thought to herself, “but He’s still my little boy.”

Did you ever wonder where some of the common phrases you hear every day originated from?

Here are a few well-known ones with their origins:

A Shot of Whiskey—in the old west, a .45 cartridge for a 6-gun cost 12 cents. So did a glass of whiskey. If a cowhand was low on cash, he would often give the bartender a cartridge in exchange for a drink. This became known as “a shot of whiskey”.

The Whole Nine Yards—American fighter planes in WWII had machine guns that were fed by a belt of cartridges. The average plane held belts that were 27 feet (9 yards). If the pilot used up all of his ammo, he was said to have given it “the whole nine yards”.

Buying the Farm—this is synonymous with dying. During WWI, soldiers were given life insurance policies worth $5,000. This was about the price of an average farm, so if you died you “bought the farm” for your survivors.

Iron Clad Contract—this came about from the ironclad ships of the Civil War. It meant something so strong it could not be broken, hence “iron clad”.

Over a Barrel—in the days before CPR, a drowning victim would be placed face down over a barrel and the barrel would be rolled back and forth in an effort to empty the lungs of water. It was rarely effective. If you are “over a barrel” you are in deep trouble.

Passing the Buck—most men in the early west carried a jack knife made by the Buck Knife Company. When playing poker, it was common to place one of these knives in front of the dealer so that everyone knew who he was. When it was time for a new dealer, the knife was given to the new dealer. If this person did not want to deal, he “passed the buck” to the next player. If that player accepted, the “buck stopped there”.

What's In Season: A Variety of Leafy Greens

By Jeannie M. Leonard

When you think salad, you think leafy greens. The foundation of any great salad, leafy greens come in all shapes and sizes. They can be light and lively or intense and spicy. They can be mixed, tossed, topped cooked, drizzled and more. It's all up to your taste and the occasion.

For all their beauty, salad greens are not just good for looks. They are also good for you. Most leafy greens are a good source of vitamins A and C.

Cabbages, either green or red, are commonly available and always reliable.

- Look for firm heads that are heavy for their size with crisp leaves either light green in color or a purplish red. Also try its citified cousins - Savoy and Napa - or some Asian relatives like bok choy.
- Taste is pungent and slightly bitter.
- Use in raw coleslaw recipes; also use shredded and tossed with other salad greens and an Italian dressing. It is also cooked in a variety of ways as well as made into sauerkraut.

Arugula, also known as rocket, is standard salad-bowl fare in Italy and southern France. It is increasingly popular in US restaurants and markets.

- Look for tender bright green leaves.
- Taste is pleasantly bitter with a slightly peppery mustard flavor.
- Mix a little with other salad greens, tossing with an oil-based dressing.

Iceberg Lettuce, is a perennial favorite that works in any salad.

- Look for large, round, compact heads with tender yet firm, pale green leaves.
- Taste is mild and texture is crisp and crunchy.
- Use this classic green as the base for any salad; goes great with all dressings, especially creamy dressings such as Ranch, French or Thousand Island.

Spinach is a versatile, nutritious green that has been cultivated since ancient times.

- Look for tender dark green leaves which can be crinkled or smooth with a fresh, not too strong, scent.
- Taste is slightly bitter.
- Use raw in salads with other hearty ingredients, such as bacon or hard-boiled eggs, which stand up to its strong flavor; toss with sweet dressings and/or fruits for a pleasant contrast. It can be cooked in a number of ways.

Kale, a member of the cabbage family, is another green that offers a lot of nutritional value.

- Look for a loosely formed head with dark green frilly leaves, which may be laced with a bluish purple or white.
- Taste is mild with a delicate cabbage flavor.
- Use just a small amount, dressed with a light vinaigrette, in everyday salads; also use as a garnish for tuna or egg salad.
